Projects granted final OK by OurSIRDA

BY BOB DEMAREE

Two Jefferson County projects — the Hanover College/Ivy Tech Madison Veterinary School and the Milton-Madison Bridge Gateway project — received final approval from Our Southern Indiana Regional Development Authority at its meeting Friday .

The projects were initially approved by the group in August and sent on for review by the Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC) before final approval could be given.

Funding is being provided by the IEDC through the $50 million READI (Regional Economic Acceleration and Development Initiative) grant from the Indiana Economic Development Corporation (IEDC).

A total of $5.9 million was awarded for the veterinary school that will be working towards having its first students by the fall of 2024.

A total of $1,267,520.20 was awarded for the gateway project, one half of the Destination Madison projects in which the Mulberry arts corridor had previously received final approval for $879,283.20. Overall, that comes to $2,146,803.40 for the Destination Madison projects.

In other action by the OurSIRDA board, three projects received their initial approval — Borden/Sellersburg wastewater treatment plant for $1.5 million, Washington County Economic Growth Partnership housing project in Salem for $250,000 and Family Scholar House at Ivy Tech Sellersburg for $1.89 million.

The region is working towards a June 2023 deadline for all of its READI funds to be obligated or to have a funding obligation plan. Cory Cochran, executive director of River Hills Economic Development District Regional Planning Commission, was hired by the OurSIRDA to implement the projects.

"We're trying to get these READI funds obligated because we want these projects to start," he said, noting a deadline has been established for the region's first meeting in January. If there's a project that has not come before region at that point, a notification will be received of a final deadline of the February meeting. "If they have not come by February, they have foregone their funds, and relinquished their funds and it will come back to the RDA to be reallocated at a later date" to other projects.

Cochran said only two projects have not yet come to the OurSIRDA board for approval "so you're doing very well, honestly" so he doesn't "foresee this being an issue" but there are plans in place to ensure that all the region's READI dollars are effectively utilized.

"Our goal is to ensure we spend these funds and we get projects the funding that they need to do the work that need," said OurSIRDA chair Dana Huber.

Last Friday's meeting was held at MidAmerica Science Park in Scottsburg with the next meeting at for 10 a.m. on Friday, Nov. 4, at the Washington County Courthouse in Salem. Throughout most of OurSIRDA's existence the meeting locations have revolved among the five counties (Clark, Floyd, Jefferson, Washington, Scott) but beginning next year meetings will be held monthly at Ivy Tech Sellersburg. "It is logistically and technologically challenging to go county to county," Cochran said, noting that meeting in that one location will permit for maintaining consistent standards of technology needed for the meetings.

20th Soup Stew Chili Brew draws huge crowd

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison's 20th anniversary Soup Stew Chili Brew brought out another huge crowd to Main Street on Saturday.

"I am ecstatic," said Richard Ice, executive director the Madison Area Chamber of Commerce that stages the festival annually. "I don't think we could have asked for better weather, a better crowd and 90% of the booths sold out. It was great."

The Schafer family, which has participated in the event since the beginning, was back this year after missing the event for the first time last year due to a scheduling conflict with a family wedding, and came away with both the first- and third-place stews. First place was for beef stew and third place was for kielbasa.

"We love it," said Jim Schafer, noting they not only enjoy participating, but do it for a good cause with proceeds going to the Schafer Family Philanthropy Fund that supports local projects and scholarships through the Community Foundation of Madison and Jefferson County. The second-place stew was Steinhardt Heating and Cooling's New England clam chowder.

The brew winner was Madison Community Players' Love Potion No. 9, which Emily Hall said is an apple cider blend. "We were excited. Everybody did a great job, and all the passersbys were pretty happy," she said. Second place for brew went to the Jefferson County Democratic party for its hot ginger cider and third place was Brian Ellison Concessions' peach bubble tea.

River Terrace was the chili winner for its Mexican taco chili, a recipe from Susan Bailli. "It was my daughter's favorite. It's what she asked for her birthday every year," said Bailli, noting there was a contest at River Terrace to determine which chili would be used, and she won. River Terrace has participated in the event five times, but 2022 was its first since 2019. Super-ATV took second with cowboy beans chili and the Creparie was third with its recipe by owner Jordan Gardner.

Thornton Terrace also won for soup — a southwest taco soup — while second went to River Valley Community Church for a loaded potato soup and third to Madison Elks Lodge for its tortilla soup.

Jefferson reports 157th COVID death

BY THE COURIER STAFF

The COVID-19 death toll in Jefferson County has been increased by one with 157 now dead during the pandemic.

Jefferson County, which posted its last recorded death on Sept. 21, continues to have low community spread, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention — the same as Carroll, Switzerland and Trimble counties — but the death toll for the four counties is now 272 throughout the pandemic.

In the last week, there were 11 news cases of COVID-19 in Jefferson County and three each in Carroll and Trimble counties with two in Switzerland County.

The updated death toll in Carroll is 51, Trimble 44 and Switzerland 20.

County takes first step toward dissolving CAB

With maintaining a Cable Advisory Board no longer a state requirement for receiving cable franchise fees, steps are being taken to dissolve Jefferson County CAB.

A first reading of an ordinance to terminate the board, was held at Thursday's meeting of County Commissioners and similar ordinances would need to be adopted by the Madison city council and Hanover town council to disband the organization created by interlocal agreements between the three entities.

Lori Hedges, CAB president, said after the Commissioners meeting that she is planning on the CAB holding its regular monthly meeting on Thursday to consider how it to move forward on recording governmental meetings. Hedges was filming Thursday's Commissioners meeting for the CAB, and the CAB is currently continuing to record meetings.

The ordinance provides that $10,000 be returned to the county that the county recently allocated to the CAB as part of the county's contribution in the interlocal agreement. It also provides that any remaining CAB funds be divided between the town of Hanover and the city of Madison. The ordinance also calls for the CAB's camera and tripod, valued at approximately $4,000, become property of the county.

The city of Madison currently has its own video equipment and has been recording its own meetings for approximately 18 months. The town of Hanover purchased its own equipment last year but has continued to have its meetings recorded by the CAB. With the CAB's equipment being turned over to the county, all three entities would seemingly have their own equipment to do their own recordings.

Even if the CAB discontinues recording meetings, Hedges said she would like to continue the "What's Happening in Jefferson County" segments that promote county events and activities. "We will just buy our own (equipment) if we're going to continue doing 'What's Jefferson County' which is what our focus is," she said.

CAB is scheduled to meet at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday at Madison City Hall.

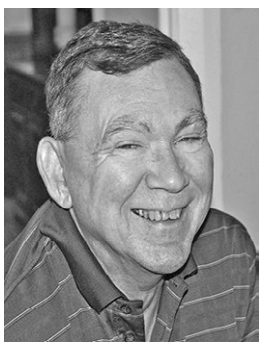
Honoring the Life of

Richard William Murray



Richard William Murray passed away peacefully on October 8, 2022, in Madison, IN, at the age of 76. He spent his final days in the care and company of his loved ones. Rich was born in 1946 in Peoria, IL; the third of four children and only son of Robert and Alice Murray. After stops in Nebraska and Iowa, the family settled in Crown Point, IN, where Rich graduated from Crown Point High School and - more importantly - met the love of his life, Ruth. The couple attended Purdue together and married in 1968 just before Rich's graduation. The newlyweds moved to Detroit, and Rich began his career with the city's budget department. They welcomed a daughter, Jennifer, in 1970 and a son, Benjamin, in 1974. As they grew up, Rich was his children's biggest fan, attending countless music recitals and sporting competitions. He also passed along important life skills: his daughter's parallel parking lessons drew an audience of neighbors, and he spent months working with his son to restore a classic 1974 Pontiac Firebird. When Rich retired in 1999, he and Ruth knew they wanted to be "back home again in Indiana." They found their place in Madison. Over the next 17 years, Rich applied his skills as a woodworker and master fix-it guy as the couple worked together to restore a 19th century rowhouse to its former glory. His appreciation for historic architecture also led him to serve as president of Cornerstone, Madison's historic preservation board, for six years. In 2015, Rich and Ruth felt the call of warmer climates and found their new home in Hudson, FL. They enjoyed six years of sunshine and added many dear friends during their stay. But as Rich's health began to falter, they needed to return "home" once again. The couple returned to Madison in July 2021, and treasured being close to family and friends once again. Faith was central to Rich's life and it carried him through some difficult times. A lifelong member of the Lutheran church, he was active with his home congregations in Michigan, Indiana, and Florida. Throughout his life, he served the Lord with his many gifts. Rich's life was so much more than the history of his career and activities. He was a kind and gentle man who loved with his whole heart. He didn't always have a lot to say, but his smile spoke volumes. He seldom raised his voice - except when the Boilermakers were playing. He had a curious mind and loved new experiences, but he also appreciated the simple comforts of everyday life. Health and mobility issues slowed him down over time, but he never lost his joy or his sense of humor. And through it all, he and Ruth were always together, side by side, loving and depending on one another. Rich leaves behind a loving family, including his devoted wife of 54 years, Ruth (Lambka) Murray of Madison, IN; his daughter Jennifer Ribble and husband David, of Indianapolis, IN; his son Benjamin Murray and wife Jennifer, of Yorkville, IL; his grandsons Cameron Michael Murray and Tyler Benjamin Murray; and his sisters Patricia Murray of Modesto, CA, and Jean Murray of Portland, OR. He is also mourned by an extended family of nieces, nephews, in-laws, and other relatives, as well as countless friends across the country. Together we grieve the loss of this wonderful man, while also celebrating our good fortune at having known and loved him. He was preceded in death by his father, Robert Omer Murray; his mother, Alice Leona (Wolf) Murray; his sister Roberta (Murray) Simon and her husband Robert Simon; his father-in-law, Russell Earl Lambka; and his mother-in-law, Marjory (Elzinger) Lambka.

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHT IN HISTORY:

On Oct. 11, 1986, President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev opened two days of talks in Reykjavik, Iceland, concerning arms control and human rights.

ON THIS DATE:

In 1614, the New Netherland Co. was formed by a group of merchants from Amsterdam and Hoorn to set up fur trading in North America.

In 1809, just over three years after the famous Lewis and Clark expedition ended, Meriwether Lewis was found dead in a Tennessee inn, an apparent suicide; he was 35.

In 1884, American first lady Eleanor Roosevelt was born in New York City.

In 1906, the San Francisco Board of Education ordered the city's Asian students segregated in a purely "Oriental" school. (The order was later rescinded at the behest of President Theodore Roosevelt, who promised to curb future Japanese immigration to the United States.)

In 1968, Apollo 7, the first manned Apollo mission, was launched with astronauts Wally Schirra (shih-RAH'), Donn Fulton Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham aboard. The government of Panama was overthrown in a military coup.

In 1984, Challenger astronaut Kathryn D. Sullivan became the first American woman to walk in space as she and fellow Mission Specialist David C. Leestma spent 3 ½ hours outside the shuttle.

In 1991, testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee, Anita Hill accused Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas of sexually harassing her; Thomas re-appeared before the panel to denounce the proceedings as a "high-tech lynching."

In 2002, former President Jimmy Carter was named the recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize.

In 2005, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said it had finished pumping out the New Orleans metropolitan area, which was flooded by Hurricane Katrina six weeks earlier and then was swamped again by Hurricane Rita.

In 2006, the charge of treason was used for the first time in the U.S. war on terrorism, filed against Adam Yehiye Gadahn, also known as "Azzam the American," who'd appeared in propaganda videos for al-Qaida. (Gadahn was killed by a U.S. drone strike in Pakistan in Jan. 2015.)

In 2014, customs and health officials began taking the temperatures of passengers arriving at New York's Kennedy International Airport from three West African countries in a stepped-up screening effort meant to prevent the spread of the Ebola virus.

In 2020, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Miami Heat 106-93 to win the NBA finals in six games; LeBron James scored 28 points as the NBA wrapped up a season that sent players to a "bubble" at Walt Disney World in Florida for three months because of the pandemic.

Ten years ago: Vice President Joe Biden and Republican opponent Paul Ryan squared off in their only debate of the 2012 campaign; the two repeatedly interrupted each other as they sparred over topics including the economy, taxes and Medicare.

Five years ago: The Boy Scouts of America announced that it would admit girls into the Cub Scouts starting in 2018 and establish a new program for older girls based on the Boy Scout curriculum, allowing them to aspire to the Eagle Scout rank. Strong winds fueled wildfires burning through California wine country; the confirmed death toll climbed to 23 as authorities ordered new evacuations. An American woman, Caitlan Coleman, her Canadian husband Joshua Boyle, and their children were freed, five years after they were seized by a terrorist network in the mountains of Afghanistan; officials said the couple and their three children - who'd been born in captivity - were rescued in a dramatic raid orchestrated by the U.S. and Pakistani governments.

One year ago: Jon Gruden resigned as coach of the Las Vegas Raiders following reports about messages he wrote years earlier that used offensive terms to refer to Blacks, gays and women. U.S.-based economist David Card won the Nobel Prize in economics for pioneering research demonstrating that an increase in the minimum wage doesn't hinder hiring, and immigrants don't lower pay for native-born workers. Benson Kipruto and Diana Kipyogei completed a Kenyan sweep in the Boston Marathon, which took place after a 30-month absence; the race was moved from its traditional spring date for the first time in its 125-year history because of the coronavirus outbreak.

Madison gets complete team effort in win over BNL

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Madison football got contributions is all three phases of the game and the result was the Cubs' most complete win of the season, 21-14, over Bedford North Lawrence on Friday.

The Cubs forced turnovers on Bedford's first two possessions of the game and converted both into touchdowns for an early lead, then got a kickoff return for a touchdown to open the second half. Other than a pair of late touchdowns by the Stars, Madison dominated the game from start to finish.

Madison coach Leroy Wilson was obviously elated at the performance.

"It has been 10 seasons since a senior group has went out on top on senior night. Ten seasons. It was so huge for those eight guys that we honored," Wilson said. "We leaned on those guys to win this thing. Almost all of them are playing defense and there's four of them out there on offense. Those guys were not going to let us lose this game."

Madison (4-4) set the tone on the first two series of the game. The Cubs recovered a fumble on Bedford's third play of the game and Colin Yancey turned it into a 17-yard rushing touchdown as Madison took a 7-0 lead.

A Myles Moon interception on the next drive set up another Madison touchdown, this one a 7-yard run by Yancey. Coupled with Clint Hearne's second extra point kick, the two scores staked Madison to a 14-0 lead less than six minutes into the game.

Madison's offense ground to a halt after that but the Cubs' defense was up to the task. The Stars did not threaten to score for the rest of the first half and after Yancey opened the third by running the kickoff back 90 yards for a score, the Cubs led 21-0.

"I love to start the game off that way. It set a tone and then it became a field position game," Wilson said. "I'm sure it's tough to watch that second half. We're telling our guys to get a first down, maybe two and punt the ball. That was our objective. When you're buried deep inside your own 20, 30-yard line, you've got to be able to take the football, punt it away and play defense. And we did a really good job of that."

Bedford North Lawrence (4-4) finally broke through the Madison defense late in the game on a pair of big plays. The Stars finally ended the shutout with just over seven minutes left in the fourth quarter when Dylan Nikirk scored on a 3-yard run. Big plays set up an 11-yard touchdown pass from Memphis Louden to Ryker Hughes for the Stars' second score to cut the lead to 21-14 with just under four minutes left.

But Madison recovered the onside kick attempt and then ran out the clock to end the game.

"Those big plays in the second half we were expecting. They have a great QB and if you're able to stand back here and throw the ball, you're going to have success," Wilson said. "But our guys did a great job of getting pressure on him and just making him miserable. I can't say enough about the defense."

Madison finished the game with 264 yards of total offense, most of which was on the ground. Van Skinner rushed for 112 yards on 25 carries while Yancey had 75 yards and two touchdowns on 11 attempts. Quarterback Darius Jay was 5-for-8 for 51 yards passing.

Louden was 14-for-29 passing for 155 yards and an interception for Bedford North Lawrence. Nikirk had six catches for 75 yards.

Madison wraps up the regular season with an unusual Saturday afternoon contest when the Cubs "host" Hammond Central at 2 p.m. on Oct. 15. The game will be played at Greenwood High School just south of Indianapolis, but will be considered a home game for the Cubs. Central comes into the game with a 6-2 record.

Madison will then open the Class 3A Sectional Tournament at Heritage Hills (4-4) on Friday, Oct. 21.

1A BOYS SOCCER SECTIONAL

Pacers roll past Shawe for 1st sectional title

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

OSGOOD — Undefeated and playing for a first-ever sectional crown, it would have been easy for all that pressure to weigh heavily on Switzerland County.

But the fifth-ranked Pacers showed no nerves at all, scoring 10 minutes into game and posting a 3-0 victory over No. 19 Shawe Memorial in the Class A Boys Soccer Sectional Championship at Jac-Cen-Del on Saturday evening.

The win set off a rare double-celebration for the school, which capped off a perfect week of soccer with two sectional championships from two undefeated teams.

"I had somebody special to me tell me that the only pressure we're playing under is the pressure of our own expectations. And there's nothing better than the pressure of feeling our expectations," Switzerland County coach David Todd said. "And our expectations have been very high all along."

Switzerland came into the game with a sparkling 18-0 record and facing a team they had struggled to survive 1-0 just a week ago. But the Pacers were the aggressor from the start and it paid off 10 minutes into the game when Levi Curlin sent a perfect shot into the upper-left corner of the net for a 1-0 lead.

With Switzerland's smothering defense hounding the Hilltoppers, one goal was more than enough, but the Pacers weren't ready to stop. Aiden Griffith scored in the 29th minute to push the Swiss ahead 2-0 and Ashton Purvis added a goal in the 51st minute for the final margin.

David Campbell

Switzerland County boys soccer won its first-ever sectional title 3-0 over Shawe Memorial Saturday at Jac-Cen-Del in Osgood. The fifth-ranked Pacers are now 19-0 on the season.

For Todd, the key to the win was the way the Pacers approached their opponent. Both games against Shawe were battles and the Switzerland coach knew that his team needed to be mentally ready to play.

"People say it's hard to beat a team three times. It is if you don't respect your opponent. It's about respecting your opponent but also respecting your abilities. And we know how good we are," Todd said. "We feel like we're good defensively and offensively. There's not a weakness on our team. We've got a strong bench. We're a team that's given up seven goals in 19 games and scored 96 goals in 19 games. So somebody's got to decide how they want to defend us."

Switzerland finished with just a 14-8 advantage in overall shots, but a 7-1 margin in shots on goal. The Pacers also had five corner kicks to four by the Hilltoppers.

Shawe goalie Dylan Fitzpatrick had four saves while Aiden Griffith had just one for Switzerland.

David Todd spent more than 20 years coaching basketball at the high school level and won a sectional title while the boys head coach at Switzerland. But this sectional crown — with his sons at his side — was even more special.

"This is special for me from an individual standpoint. I get to coach with one of my sons (Cooper) and I get to coach with one of my sons (Logan) and they both made a big difference for this team," David Todd said. "As a dad, it's just unbelievable. It's unbelievable."

Switzerland will take its perfect unbeaten and untied record into the regional round where it will take on Christian Academy of Indiana (11-5-3) in the semifinals at New Albany on Wednesday. Seventh-ranked South Knox (18-0-1) and eighth-ranked Forest Park (12-6-1) will play in the other semifinal with the championship slated for Forest Park on Saturday.

For Todd, the key to the team's success has been to not be satisfied with what they have accomplished and instead, always be looking forward.

"They've already put their legacy there and now we just have some things to do," Todd said. "But for us, this isn't a sectional championship. This is another step in the state tournament because there's a lot of possibilities out there right now. It's just another step. And that's what we talked about. We don't talk about the sectional, we talk about the state tournament. So we'll take that next game and then see where it goes from there."

1A GIRLS SOCCER SECTIONAL

Pacers dominate Rising Sun en route to 2nd-straight crown

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

MILAN — Rising Sun's packed-in defense held down the final score but it couldn't alter the final result as Switzerland County pulled out a 1-0 victory in the championship game of the Class A Girls Soccer Sectional at Milan on Saturday.

Pulling all 10 players back, the Shiners did what they wanted to do and kept the high-scoring Swiss from racking up goals. But Rising Sun also failed to get off a shot and once the Pacers scored, the Shiners never had a chance to pull out the win.

The victory was a sweet one for the ninth-ranked Lady Pacers, who not only won their second-straight sectional title, but kept their unbeaten season alive.

"It was definitely a lot tougher than I expected it to be but a win's a win," Switzerland coach Courtney Dayadharum said. "I was very surprised that they didn't move (Hannah Kremer) up, she's their scorer. "I thought at least once they went down one they would move her up, but they didn't and it worked out in our favor."

Switzerland (16-0-2) may not have scored a lot of goals, but the Pacers certainly had plenty of shots. Switzerland totaled 34 attempts in the game — to zero by the Shiners — but only 15 of those shots were on frame as Rising Sun pressured every Swiss attack in every zone.

David Campbell

Switzerland County senior Dakota Richards (1) lifts up the sectional championship trophy after the Pacers defeated Rising Sun 1-0 on Saturday at Milan.

Rising Sun's defensive ploy to extend the game to a penalty kick shootout might have worked if not for a set piece right before halftime. Switzerland's Halle Archer sent the Pacers' third corner kick of the half into the box, where the ball bounced past goalie Kieran Groover and straight to Lauren Smith. The Switzerland freshman didn't hesitate and quickly redirected the ball into the net with just 34 seconds left before in the half.

That goal proved to be the only marker Switzerland scored or would need. The only offensive threat Rising Sun (8-8-1) could muster came in the final minute of regulation when the Shiners finally came out of their defensive pack and tried to make a desperation run. But the Pacers quickly batted the ball out of bounds and time ran out.

"It's hard to get anything quality but they kept their head and they did stay positive," Dayadharum said. "They had good body language, kept their heads in it and just worked together as a team."

Switzerland dominated every phase of the game. Along with the 34-0 advantage in overall shots — and 15-0 in shots on goal — the Pacers also had nine corner kick chances to zero for the Shiners. The Swiss were also whistled only nine times to 19 for Rising Sun.

Rising Sun keeper Groover had 14 saves in the game, going over 400 in her fantastic career.

Next up for Switzerland is a regional date with second-ranked Providence (15-2) for the second-straight year. A year ago, the Pacers dominated possession and shots, but suffered a 2-1 loss to a Pioneer team that ended up claiming the regional championship.

Last season marked the first time Switzerland had won a sectional title after years of coming so close, and Dayadharum believes the Pacers will be better ready for regional this year.

"We are a little ready. I do have a couple banged up after this game from the fouling and stuff but I know that we are going to be ready to play," she said.

Switzerland will travel to Providence on Thursday for the semifinals with Washington Catholic (9-4-2) and fourth-ranked Evansville Mater Dei (11-7) squaring off in the other semifinal. The regional championship will be on Saturday at Forest Park.

Shawe volleyball ends record regular season with title

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Shawe volleyball closed out the regular season in style by winning four matches and claiming the Lancer Invitational in Edinburgh on Saturday, setting a school record for wins in a season in the process.

The Hilltoppers beat Ohio River Valley Conference rival Jac-Cen-Del 25-22, 25-20, Oldenburg 21-25, 25-23, 15-6 and Greenwood Christian 21-25, 27-25, 18-16 to win their pool. Shawe then defeated Speedway 29-27, 25-17 in the championship.

"This weekend the girls achieved a couple goals they had for this season. It pushed them past the 20 wins from last season, which was a school record, and to win that invitational after the disappointing loss last year feeling like they were the better team," Shawe assistant coach Dennis Kilgore said. "The girls have brought an ORVC title to the school for the first time in volleyball and with 22 wins, they passed last year's 20 wins that was the most wins in school history. Of course, there is hopes of adding to that total with sectionals starting this week."

Emmaline Leatherman was 38-for-41 serving with six aces, 63 kills, 12 blocks and 30 digs over the four matches for Shawe, Lauren Grote was 46-for-53 serving with five aces and 18 digs, Harlee Hill was 31-for-35 serving with three aces, 19 kills, 51 assists and 22 digs, Allison Knoebel was 24-for-26 serving with an ace, 18 kills, 17 digs and 47 assists, Kelly McClure was 25-for-31 serving with four aces, Payton Lock was 21-for-25 serving with two aces and 23 digs, and Ava Turner had 25 kills and six blocks.

Southwestern lost all three of its matches in pool play in the tournament. The Rebels lost 25-20, 25-23 to Edinburgh, 23-25, 25-22, 15-11 to Lanesville, and 27-25, 25-16 to Speedway.

Shawe, now 22-8 on the season, will open the Class A Sectional at Trinity Lutheran on Saturday morning when it faces the winner between Crothersville and Rising Sun in the semifinals. The championship match will be Saturday night.

Southwestern, now 13-18 on the season, will face Milan in the opening round of the Class 2A Sectional at Hauser on Thursday.

Rattler, South Carolina knock off No. 13 Kentucky, 24-14

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Shane Beamer had multiple reasons to savor his first road win in over a year.

Not only did South Carolina provide his initial Southeastern Conference victory away from home, it never trailed while conquering No. 13 Kentucky 24-14 on Saturday night. The way his shorthanded Gamecocks imposed their will over the Wildcats made it even better.

"This was really big for us in so many ways," said Beamer, whose team had allowed 40-plus points in SEC losses to No. 16 Arkansas and top-ranked Georgia. "We were missing so many guys. Proud of our team. I said take all three phases, and it did."

Spencer Rattler overcame two early turnovers and threw the go-ahead touchdown pass in the third quarter, Jalen Brooks ran for an insurance score midway through the fourth and South Carolina scored 17 unanswered points for its third consecutive victory.

MarShawn Lloyd (22 carries, 110 yards) scored a 2-yard touchdown run on the Gamecocks' first snap, immediately after Kentucky's Chris Rodriguez Jr. fumbled on the opening play. That quickly seized momentum against the Wildcats (3-3, 1-2 Southeastern Conference).

South Carolina (4-2, 1-2) moved ahead early in the third quarter, when Rattler (14 of 19, 177 yards) hit Antwane Wells Jr. in the flat and the junior darted past a defender for a 42-yard touchdown and 14-7 lead. Mitch Jeter's 32-yard field goal later in the period provided a 10-point cushion that Brooks extended to 17 points with a 24-yard TD run with 7:02 remaining.

"First half, we had opportunities to score and didn't capitalize," Rattler said. "We locked in and executed and couldn't be stopped."

South Carolina won its first road game since topping East Carolina in Beamer's second game on Sept. 11, 2021.

The Gamecocks also earned their first win over a ranked team since beating No. 15 Auburn at home on Oct. 17, 2020, and first on the road since topping third-ranked Georgia on Oct. 19, 2019. They were coming off consecutive 50-point performances in wins over Charlotte and FCS South Carolina State.

Sheron (15 of 27, 178 yards) tossed a 10-yard TD pass JuTahn McClain with 2:49 left, his second of the game, but the Wildcats fell for the second consecutive week in league play.

Mystery preceded this defeat as Levis entered Kroger Field with a boot on his left foot and did not participate in warmups with teammates. Earlier this week, Kentucky coach Mark Stoops referred to a finger injury Levis sustained in last week's 22-19 loss to No. 9 Mississippi, but didn't mention any foot injury and remained mum on the quarterback's status on Thursday.

Stoops said after the game that Levis has a foot injury and wasn't sure when he'd be able to return.

"It's been day to day, and it's day to day," the coach said. "So, I can't tell you how that's going to respond."

Disaster quickly followed with Rodriguez's fumble, a blocked punt and Matt Ruffolo's missed 45-yard field goal that bounced off the left upright. Sheron regrouped to fake a toss to Rodriguez and hit wide-open Jordan Dingle for the tying touchdown in the second quarter, but Kentucky was held to its lowest output since losing 30-13 to top-ranked Georgia 30-13 last season.

"A first-time starter, in position to be successful, I don't think our team played with the normal competitive character that our teams generally play with," Stoops said, referring to Sheron. "That's obviously the job of the head coach to get the team prepared and put them in the position to be successful."

Long-ago relationship begets long-lost child

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: Thirty years ago, I began a romantic relationship with "Bonnie." We were both married.

The relationship lasted for 16 years and produced a child ("W").

Bonnie was very happy that I was W's father. I was able to visit/play with W as a toddler and had two chance meetings with W as a child.

After 16 years, Bonnie stopped seeing me, but we continued to talk by phone almost daily. We talked for six years, but then Bonnie abruptly stopped.

That was nine years ago.

Besides missing Bonnie, I really miss hearing about W.

I have tried contacting Bonnie, but she has not responded.

Through social media I see that W is doing well and appears to have a good life.

I don't know if Bonnie ever told W about me, but I imagine it's a very difficult subject to bring up to your adult child when you're still married.

W works near where I live, and I would like to introduce myself.

I would much rather have Bonnie introduce me, but she seems to have closed that door.

I don't want to interfere with Bonnie's marriage.

The main thing I want is for W to know that I care.

Any ongoing relationship would be totally up to W.

Children should know who their biological parents are, but should I do this?

— Eager Dad

Dear Eager: "W" has the right to know their DNA heritage, and you should disclose this. W also has the right to accept or reject having a personal relationship with you.

And yes, this contact could blow up "Bonnie's" marriage and affect everyone's life (including yours) in potentially extremely profound ways.

I suggest reaching out to W via private message (that way you can see if the message has been opened and read).

Include all the ways W can contact you, and wait for W to decide what to do about this potentially life-altering and important turn.

Needy friends quickly become trespassers

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: My son has a friend, "Brett," whose mother died some time ago.

Brett and his wife had to move off of his mother's property.

Brett asked me if they could temporarily park their motor home in my driveway.

Before long, my property became a junkyard, storage bin, and trash heap.

I told Brett and his wife that they had to clean up and gave them a month and a half because they had so much stuff.

The last day of the deadline, they decided to start cleaning up.

Eventually, they got rid of the three cars that were stored on my property.

There is still stuff everywhere.

They don't pay rent, nor do they help out with anything else.

I wrote them a letter telling them that I wanted them to move, but yet here they still are.

I didn't want to tell them that they are now trespassing, but they have taken advantage of my generosity and kindness.

Now they have hooked up to my electricity and don't want to help with the expense. What are your thoughts?

— Upset

Dear Upset: You have written "Brett" and his wife a letter telling them that you want them to vacate your property. They decided to steal your electricity, instead.

At this point, you should contact your local sheriff or police department and ask for their advice and intervention.

You should write them another letter (better yet, have a lawyer do it) telling them the exact date when they "must" vacate your property. They are no longer welcome; they are trespassing, and they must go. Do this immediately.

You don't mention your son's reaction to this affront and aggression. He seems to have had a part in brokering this deal; if so, he should help you to intervene and be supportive of your efforts to clear them out.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr. 19) — You likely have the energy to fan the flames that fuel your most exciting ambitions. You can be creative about business policies and using clever strategies to get ahead. Be on your guard about communications and sending mixed messages.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20) — You may become more popular if your name is more familiar to others. The people you meet will likely remember you. Pay attention to your money and possessions since you could easily mislay your phone or car keys.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — It may be tempting to play hide and seek with your ambitions. Other people might not notice that you have the drive and determination to really rise. Work diligently to favorably impact your career or reputation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Bring it. Every challenge seems to bring out your determination and resourcefulness. You might realize that a partner or loved one has hidden talents and can be an expert when dealing with emergencies.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Your conscientious attention to duty can put you in the spotlight. Your insightful observations and businesslike attitude can give you a firm foundation on which to build future success and material security.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — You might be more optimistic than usual and willing to be cooperative with others. One of your financial or job-related obligations could come to an end more quickly if you continue to chisel away at it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22.) — You are flexible enough to welcome new people and experiences. You might seem less troubled by serious concerns than other people when you build the confidence that you can handle whatever life throws at you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — With your tenacity and resilience, there are few obstacles in life that you can't rise above. Take pride in your ability to work full out, and to still be able to play like a child, enjoying every new experience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Avoid any temptation to put an unrealistic spin on problems or to offer assurances carelessly. A muddled mind might prevent you from operating at top capacity. Concentrate on achieving your goals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — You want more bang for every buck. You may love looking at labels because name brands usually offer something you can trust and rely upon. Your drive, initiative, and hard work should produce excellent results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Clear out clutter and cut out anything nonessential. A messy desk or room can be a reflection of a messy mind. This is a good time to streamline your surroundings so that you can better handle your responsibilities.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) — Blow off some steam with your crew first. Then, think though the situation to understand and find resolution for irritations caused by family members. Offer some leeway when someone makes mistakes.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr. 19) — Always remain appropriate. It might be tempting to show off a bubbly personality by engaging with everyone you meet. Your friendly flirtation might rub a romantic partner the wrong way, however, and spark a misunderstanding.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20) — You may be really on in social situations or amuse people with unique ideas. A family member could inadvertently put you in an embarrassing predicament. Romance is in the air but easily disrupted by outside influences.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — It's always beneficial to show your understanding and compassion when loved ones or acquaintances have personal problems. Good communication will help you to understand the other person's viewpoint. Gather support for your goals.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Give yourself enough self-love so that you do not take someone's harsh assessments personally. A loved one or companion could resent interference when they are hard at work. Wait for better timing to discuss issues.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You could learn to put some sound business strategies to use. Your eagerness to experiment with something entirely new and different, however, could result in disapproval from the person you hope to impress.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Your tastes could change rapidly with exposure to new things. Until you are certain about what fits your lifestyle, you should hold off on major purchases. This can be a good day to discuss important issues with a partner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22.) — You might entertain others with an enchanting personality but some things cannot be fixed with a magic wand. Someone in your life could choose to change the pace. Conflicting viewpoints might cause a tiff.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Social interactions at the workplace could be awkward. A new acquaintance may light a romantic fire in your heart but you might be happier if you keep each other in the friend zone. Work hard and be discreet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — You might be charming and attractive, but don't let some passing flirtations go to your head. To achieve one of your goals, you may need to conserve your dollars and stick to a stricter savings plan.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — If you and a partner may have different expectations and priorities, this may put you at odds with one another. If you're wanting to be restrained about spending, you may resent a family member who gives in to their whims.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — You might not be happy to be held back yet you may balk at changes. It may be necessary to take a rain check on an invitation or force yourself to attend a required social gathering. Display your command of proper etiquette.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) — Social activities could spark an enthusiastic response. The friendships you make might not lead to romance but could cause you to spend more money. A family member may try to push you into making an unwise decision.

Tucker's leg lifts Ravens to 19-17 victory over Bengals

BY NOAH TRISTER
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Ravens essentially have two versions of the victory formation.

One is when the quarterback takes a knee to run out the clock. The other is when Justin Tucker comes on the field to attempt a game-winning kick.

"We've got the GOAT at kicker," Lamar Jackson said, using the acronym for "Greatest of All-Time."

Tucker kicked a 43-yard field goal on the final play to lift the Ravens over the Cincinnati Bengals 19-17 on Sunday night and into sole possession of first place in the AFC North.

Tucker also made a 58-yard kick in the third quarter, and even when the Ravens (3-2) fell behind 17-16 on Joe Burrow's 1-yard sneak with 1:58 remaining, they could feel confident because they only needed a field goal. Tucker's game-winner extended his streak to 61 straight successful field goals in the fourth quarter and overtime.

He is 17 for 17 in his career on attempts in the final minute of regulation.

"What matters in those 1.3 seconds between snap, hold and the kick, are the things that are going to help the kick go through the uprights," Tucker said. "My feelings, my emotions — for 1.3 seconds, they don't really matter, whether I'm feeling very confident or nervous or even outright afraid. That's partly why I always make it a point to say a brief prayer as I'm lining up to kick — not to ask for results, but to ask for peace and to show gratitude just for sort of being able to be in that moment."

Jackson shook off a rough night passing, leading the Ravens with his arm and his legs on the winning drive. Baltimore blew leads of 21 and 17 points in its previous two home games when it lost to Miami and Buffalo. The Ravens squandered a 10-point lead in this one but recovered.

It was a remarkable turnaround for the Baltimore defense, which allowed 41 points in each of two losses last year to the AFC champion Bengals. This time the Ravens kept Burrow and Ja'Marr Chase mostly under control and pulled off an impressive stand in the third quarter after Cincinnati (2-3) had first-and-goal from the 2.

The Bengals trailed 13-10 when they wasted that opportunity. The key play was a 12-yard loss when Cincinnati tried a reverse pass on second down. A third-down completion put the Bengals back at the 2, but then a shovel pass on fourth down went incomplete.

"They played it well," Burrow said.

The Ravens then drove all the way to the other end of the field for a short field goal that made it 16-10. Tucker's earlier kick from 58 had broken a 10-all tie. After that one, he stood near midfield and posed in celebration with his arms outstretched.

"I've celebrated in many a humorous way over the years," he said. "Also, you've got to save a little bit for the end of the game too. So I don't want to peak too early."

Baltimore took a 10-0 lead on Jackson's 11-yard scoring pass to Mark Andrews in the second quarter, but the star quarterback was intercepted in Cincinnati territory on his next drive.

The Bengals scored on a 19-yard pass from Burrow to Hayden Hurst, and the game was tied by halftime.

Jackson finished 19 of 32 for 174 yards with a touchdown and an interception, and he rushed 12 times for 58 yards. Burrow also had a TD and a pick and was 24 of 35 for 217 yards.

'Philly Special' goes badly awry as Bengals stumble

BY NOAH TRISTER
ASSOCIATED PRESS

BALTIMORE — The "Philly Special" fell flat for Cincinnati, and that might have cost the Bengals the game.

By now, football fans everywhere are familiar with this trick play — and perhaps that was part of the problem. It started as a reverse to receiver Tyler Boyd, with quarterback Joe Burrow slipping out into the flat. When the Eagles ran this play in a Super Bowl, their quarterback was open as a receiving target, but Burrow wasn't, and Baltimore's Marcus Peters shoved Boyd to the ground for a 12-yard loss.

From second-and-goal from the 2 to third down from the 14 — it was a huge swing in Cincinnati's 19-17 loss to the Ravens on Sunday night.

"That was a big play," Baltimore coach John Harbaugh said. "Marcus made a great football play. ... The thing was covered. I thought we did a great job out there covering the quarterback on that."

The Ravens led 13-10 in the third quarter when Cincinnati drove deep into Baltimore territory. A pass interference call gave the Bengals first-and-goal from the 2. After an incomplete pass, Cincinnati tried its trick play and it flopped miserably.

Still, Burrow was able to complete a pass to Ja'Marr Chase on third down to put the ball back at the 2, and then the Bengals went for it on fourth.

"I think you have to right there," Burrow said. "If you get seven points, it'll change the game."

The play this time was an inside shovel pass, but the Ravens seemed well prepared for that, too, and it went incomplete.

"It didn't quite work out how we wanted it to on the shovel play, but I felt comfortable with our package," Cincinnati coach Zac Taylor said.

Rattler, South Carolina shut down No. 13 Kentucky 24-14

BY GARY B. GRAVES
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Shane Beamer had multiple reasons to savor his first road win in over a year.

Not only did South Carolina provide his initial Southeastern Conference victory away from home, it never trailed while conquering No. 13 Kentucky 24-14 on Saturday night. The way his shorthanded Gamecocks imposed their will over the Wildcats made it even better.

"This was really big for us in so many ways," said Beamer, whose team had allowed 40-plus points in SEC losses to No. 16 Arkansas and top-ranked Georgia. "We were missing so many guys. Proud of our team. I said take all three phases, and it did."

Spencer Rattler overcame two early turnovers and threw the go-ahead touchdown pass in the third quarter, Jalen Brooks ran for an insurance score midway through the fourth and South Carolina scored 17 unanswered points for its third consecutive victory.

MarShawn Lloyd (22 carries, 110 yards) scored a 2-yard touchdown run on the Gamecocks' first snap, immediately after Kentucky's Chris Rodriguez Jr. fumbled on the opening play. That quickly seized momentum against the Wildcats (3-3, 1-2 Southeastern Conference).

South Carolina (4-2, 1-2) moved ahead early in the third quarter, when Rattler (14 of 19, 177 yards) hit Antwane Wells Jr. in the flat and the junior darted past a defender for a 42-yard touchdown and 14-7 lead. Mitch Jeter's 32-yard field goal later in the period provided a 10-point cushion that Brooks extended to 17 points with a 24-yard TD run with 7:02 remaining.

"First half, we had opportunities to score and didn't capitalize," Rattler said. "We locked in and executed and couldn't be stopped."

South Carolina won its first road game since topping East Carolina in Beamer's second game on Sept. 11, 2021.

The Gamecocks also earned their first win over a ranked team since beating No. 15 Auburn at home on Oct. 17, 2020, and first on the road since topping third-ranked Georgia on Oct. 19, 2019. They were coming off consecutive 50-point performances in wins over Charlotte and FCS South Carolina State.

Sheron (15 of 27, 178 yards) tossed a 10-yard TD pass JuTahn McClain with 2:49 left, his second of the game, but the Wildcats fell for the second consecutive week in league play.

Mystery preceded this defeat as Levis entered Kroger Field with a boot on his left foot and did not participate in warmups with teammates. Earlier this week, Kentucky coach Mark Stoops referred to a finger injury Levis sustained in last week's 22-19 loss to No. 9 Mississippi, but didn't mention any foot injury and remained mum on the quarterback's status on Thursday.

Stoops said after the game that Levis has a foot injury and wasn't sure when he'd be able to return.

"It's been day to day, and it's day to day," the coach said. "So, I can't tell you how that's going to respond."

Disaster quickly followed with Rodriguez's fumble, a blocked punt and Matt Ruffolo's missed 45-yard field goal that bounced off the left upright. Sheron regrouped to fake a toss to Rodriguez and hit wide-open Jordan Dingle for the tying touchdown in the second quarter, but Kentucky was held to its lowest output since losing 30-13 to top-ranked Georgia 30-13 last season.

"A first-time starter, in position to be successful, I don't think our team played with the normal competitive character that our teams generally play with," Stoops said, referring to Sheron. "That's obviously the job of the head coach to get the team prepared and put them in the position to be successful."

BLOCK BY BLOCK

South Carolina rang up another blocked punt when King-Demenian Ford stuffed Colin Goodfellow's attempt midway through the first quarter. That raised the Gamecocks' total to a nation-leading five and followed the Gamecocks' second two-block performance this season against South Carolina State on Sept. 29.

POLL IMPLICATIONS

Kentucky's poll stay is in jeopardy after a second consecutive loss.

THE TAKEAWAY

South Carolina: Gifted with a turnover on the first snap, the Gamecocks converted but couldn't reach the end zone until the third quarter. Rattler fumbled on a sack and was intercepted, but found a groove with short passes that turned into big gains. The defense sacked Sheron six times and limited his passing options after the TD to earn a much-needed win.

Kentucky: Offensive falloff was to be expected without Levis, but the Wildcats quickly dug a hole with a first-play fumble and special teams failures. Other than Sheron, the offense stalled. More puzzling were the defensive breakdowns that allowed Rattler to pick them apart, which is not good with red-hot Mississippi State up next.

"At half(time) I felt we had control and was moving the ball," Sheron said. "I don't know what happened."

Questionable roughing the passer calls raise more questions

BY ROB MAADDI
AP PRO FOOTBALL WRITER

TAMPA, Fla. — Can't touch this.

Falcons defensive tackle Grady Jarrett found out the hard way how seriously some referees take protecting quarterbacks when he sacked Tom Brady and got flagged for roughing the passer in the fourth quarter of Atlanta's 21-15 loss at Tampa Bay on Sunday.

The questionable penalty that benefited Brady and the Buccaneers raised more concerns about interpretations of the rule. It was the second straight week referee Jerome Boger made the critical call late in a game on a play that didn't seem to warrant a flag.

Last week, it helped the Buffalo Bills on a drive that ended with Tyler Bass kicking a 21-yard field goal as time expired to beat the Baltimore Ravens 23-20.

This time, it allowed the Buccaneers to extend the final drive and eventually run out the clock.

Protecting quarterbacks has always been a point of emphasis for the NFL. That was magnified after Dolphins quarterback Tua Tagovailoa was taken off the field on a stretcher following a violent hit in a game against Cincinnati on Sept. 29. Tagovailoa sustained a concussion when 6-foot-3, 340-pound Bengals defensive tackle Josh Tupou threw him backward, slamming his head into the turf.

Tupou wasn't penalized for sacking Tagovailoa. Neither Josh Allen nor Brady were injured on the hits Boger called roughing.

"What I had was the defender grabbed the quarterback while he was still in the pocket, and unnecessarily throwing him to the ground," Boger told a pool reporter after the game. "That is what I was making my decision based upon."

Buccaneers coach Todd Bowles, of course, understood the decision.

"I saw that one being called. I saw it against Tua when he got hit, and in the London game this morning," Bowles said. "I think they are starting to crack down on some of the things, slinging backs. I don't know. Right now, the way they are calling (it), I think a lot of people would've gotten that call."

In the NFL rulebook, it states: "Any physical acts against a player who is in a passing posture (i.e. before, during, or after a pass) which, in the referee's judgment, are unwarranted by the circumstances of the play will be called as fouls."

The rulebook also notes: "When in doubt about a roughness call or potentially dangerous tactic against the quarterback, the referee should always call roughing the passer."

Many analysts, including former quarterbacks, disagreed with Boger's call.

"The league office has to get that fixed," Hall of Fame coach Tony Dungy said on NBC's "Football Night in America" pregame show. "If you cannot tackle the quarterback, it's going to be impossible to play defense."

Robert Griffin III tweeted: "The Falcons got ROBBED. Hitting the QB hard does not equal Roughing the Passer even if it's Tom Brady."

Despite the perception that the 45-year-old Brady gets special treatment, the seven-time Super Bowl champion ranks 41st with .14 roughing calls per game since 2009. This was the first time Brady was the beneficiary of a roughing penalty this season. He only got one last year.

Jarrett was visibly upset about the penalty and refused to talk to reporters after the game. Falcons coach Arthur Smith wouldn't criticize the officials.

"Obviously from my vantage point, it looked like it was a bad call," Falcons cornerback Casey Hayward Jr. said. "But that's why you put the refs out there to make these calls. They pay these guys to make those calls. It looked bad (from) my standpoint — but like I said — I was on the back end. They put these guys there to make those calls."

Nobody wants to see any player endure a hit like the one that sent Tagovailoa to the hospital. But there's a difference between protecting quarterbacks and punishing defenders for playing football.

Finding a balance is the NFL's dilemma.

AP Top 25: UGA back at No. 1, Alabama slips to 3 behind OSU

BY RALPH D. RUSSO
AP COLLEGE FOOTBALL WRITER

Georgia took back the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press college football poll from Alabama on Sunday after being bumped out last week by the Crimson Tide, who slid to No. 3.

The Bulldogs received 32 first-place votes and 1,535 points in the Top 25, presented by Regions Bank, to easily reclaim No. 1. They were just two points behind Alabama at No. 2 last week.

Georgia thumped Auburn 42-10 on Saturday. The Tide, whose Heisman Trophy-winning quarterback Bryce Young was sidelined by injury, escaped an upset bid at home by Texas A&M.

Ohio State moved up a spot to No. 2, receiving 20 first-place votes and 1,507 points.

No. 3 is a season-low for Alabama, which was preseason No. 1 but fell to No. 2 after Week 2. The Tide received 11 first-place votes.

There were two notable season debuts in the Top 25: No. 24 Illinois is ranked for the first time since 2011 and James Madison is in the AP Top 25 for the first time in its program history. The Dukes are playing their first season as a member of the Sun Belt Conference in Division I college football's highest level.

Clemson overtook Michigan and moved up to No. 4 and the Wolverines fell one spot to No. 5.

Tennessee moved up to No. 6, which is the best ranking for the currently undefeated Volunteers since No. 5 early in the 2005 season. Tennessee stumbled to a 5-6 and unranked finish that year.

Southern California fell one spot to No. 7, and Oklahoma State, Mississippi and Penn State held their places to round out the top 10.

POLL POINTS

The shuffle that Georgia's made from No. 1 to 2 and back No. 1 over three polls hadn't happened in more than a decade.

Florida went back and forth between Nos. 1 and 2 in 2009, flip-flopping with Alabama as both teams won in late October.

The Tide is the first team to drop from No. 1 to No. 3 off a victory in 25 years, when Nebraska beat Missouri in overtime on the famous "Flea Kicker." Michigan jumped from No. 4 to No. 1 on Nov. 10, 1997, after it won 34-8 at No. 2 Penn State.

IN

The week after Kansas handed the ignominious title of Power Five conference team with the longest streak of being unranked to Illinois, the Illini are now off the schneid in their second year under coach Bret Bielema.

Illinois improved to 5-1 by beating Iowa and landed in the poll for the first time since Oct. 16, 2011 — 178 polls.

Next up on the list of longest ranking droughts for Power Five schools are: Rutgers (2012), Oregon State (preseason 2013) and Vanderbilt (final 2013), Georgia Tech (2015), Arizona (2017).

• James Madison has been a powerhouse in the Football Championship Subdivision for years, winning a national title in 2016 and losing to North Dakota State in the NCAA championship game in 2017 and '19. The Dukes have had no issue moving up so far, going 5-0 and averaging 44 points per game.

JMU's transition has been different than others, who take a year or two to acclimate before playing a full FBS-type schedule as they build up from 63 scholarship players to 85.

Aided by temporary changes to eligibility rules due to the pandemic, plus loosened transfer rules, the Dukes were able to dive right in with a more FBS-ready roster, coach Curt Cignetti told AP.

"There were a lot of unknows coming into the season," Cignetti said. "The one thing about our program is we've had such great success from 2016 on ... there's a culture here, a standard, an expectation. And our guys expect to win every time we go out."

Since Division I football split into subdivisions in 1978, JMU is the first team to be ranked in a season when it was transitioning up.

"All the national publicity that we have had is extremely positive for the university, the program, the athletic department and our boosters and supporters," said Cignetti, the son of Hall of Fame coach Frank Cignetti, who died in September. "Making the Top 25, that's just another step."

• No. 22 Texas is ranked again after blowing out rival Oklahoma and tied with Kentucky in the Top 25.

OUT

• BYU is unranked for the first time this season after losing to Notre Dame.

• Washington dropped out of the rankings after a second straight loss.

• LSU's return to the Top 25 was brief after getting thumped at home by Tennessee.

CONFERENCE CALL

The Sun Belt went from its inception in 2001 to 2015 without having a ranked team. The conference has now had at least one team ranked for at least one week each of the last five seasons and six of the last seven.

James Madison is the second Sun Belt team to reach the Top 25 this season, along with Appalachian State.

SEC — 6 (Nos. 1, 3, 6, 9, 16, 22).

Big 12 — 5 (8, 13, 17, 19, 22).

ACC — 4 (Nos. 4, 14, 15, 18).

Big Ten — 4 (Nos. 2, 5, 10, 24).

Pac-12 — 4 (Nos. 7, 11, 12, 20).

American — 1 (No. 21).

Sun Belt — 1 (No. 25).
